ACCOMPANYING ECONOMIC CHANGE

Your environment is constantly evolving and becoming increasingly complex. New regulations, new standards, new technologies, new needs and new players in the market: these are all changes to factor in, and opportunities to seize. Paris Île-de-France CCI is a source of proposals, informs these debates and is mobilised to defend the interests of the local economy and businesses.

As a key partner for the public authorities, the Chamber makes its contribution to public debate on a wide range of current and future issues, through its elected members, who are all business leaders, and its experts.

Paris Île-de-France CCI is a source of proposals and regularly recommends practical initiatives to support economic development and growth, via its many reports, studies and policy papers.

It works each day with local authorities and political and institutional decision makers to make sure that economic and local policies take full account of businesses and their needs.
